

Call for proposals: Expansion of longitudinal data collection efforts at academic medical centers

Due date: November 15, 2023

The ARRE Foundation is accepting research grant proposals to expand longitudinal data collection efforts at academic medical centers with histories of collecting clinical data on individuals with ASXL-related disorders. The award amount is up to $50,000 to support projects from January 1-December 31, 2024.

To apply, please send a brief written proposal including a budget to info@arrefoundation.org by November 15, 2023. The proposal should include:

- A description of the existing data collection project
- Identification and description of the goals for the grant period, including a timeline for project milestones and deliverables
- A description of how the project will be responsive to the ASXL family community
- Budget and budget justification

Institutional overhead policy

As a steward of funds raised by families affected by ASXL-related disorders, no ARRE Foundation funds may be used to support indirect costs/overhead expenses. Acceptance of ARRE Foundation funds is contingent upon the recipient and their institution complying with this policy.
